

EarthCam Time-Lapse of the Month: Dickies Arena

November 16, 2019 - davidc@ccr-mag.com

Dickies Arena in Fort Worth, Texas, is officially open.

EarthCam celebrated this milestone by releasing a time-lapse movie of its construction.

From 2017 to 2019, EarthCam's reliable time-lapse solution documented progress for the new entertainment center. During this period, EarthCam producers curated more than 800,000 images from 12 different angles — including 500 megapixel panoramas — then utilized the company's unique stitching technology to create a time-lapse movie that is comprised of both interior and exterior 360° perspectives.

Reach out today to learn how we can document your construction projects and generate positive awareness for the impressive work you do every day.

More info at www.earthcam.net.

